

I have done one
for you.

The words below are all out of order.

1. Rewrite them so that the adverb underlined starts a sentence that makes sense.

Example:

strode boy the promenade the quickly along

a. Quickly, the boy strode along the promenade.

(Note that we usually put a comma after the adverb if it starts the sentence.)

Now try these:

above the rocks calmly seagull the drifted

1.

the breakfast luckily out came sun after

2.

pool children the shouted in the cheerfully

3.

blasted the suddenly ship's out horn

4.

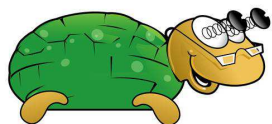

Now try writing sentences beginning with these adverbs: softly quietly earlier

5.

6.

7.

Name:

The words below are all out of order.

1. Rewrite them so that the adverb underlined starts a sentence that makes sense.

crowd show start to for excitedly the the waited

1.

crept the behind slowly sun out clouds the from 2.

warm out tiles lazily the the on cat stretched

3.

waded the pool eventually swimming the whole girl across 4.

distance old far man the silently stared into the 5.

Now try writing sentences beginning with these adverbs:

angrily noisily sadly happily

6.

7.

8.

9.

Answers

Page 1

(Different orders of words are possible.)

1. Calmly, the seagull drifted above the rocks.
2. Luckily, the sun came out after breakfast.
3. Cheerfully, the children shouted in the pool.
4. Suddenly, the ship's horn blasted out.
- 5-7. Sensible sentences beginning with the adverbs softly, quietly and earlier.

Page 2

(Different orders of words are possible.)

1. Excitedly, the crowd waited for the show to start.
2. Slowly, the sun crept out from behind the clouds.
3. Lazily, the cat stretched out on the warm tiles.
4. Eventually, the girl waded across the whole swimming pool.
5. Silently, the old man stared into the far distance.
- 6-9. Sensible sentences beginning with the adverbs softly, quietly and earlier.